BRICKS FALL; BOY KILLED

High Wind Wrought Havoc Amid the Ruins.

Palace Hotel Debris Blown Down With Fatal Result—Other Damage.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—Little Cuneo, aged 11, was killed and his companion, Joseph Castro, aged 10, was badly injured this afternoon by falling bricks blown from the top of one of the ruined walls of the Palace hotel. The bricks fell on the Market street side and immediately after the accident the police stretched ropes across the street for the purpose of preventing further accidents. As a result, the cars running on Market street were tied up for some time.

At the time of the accident the boys were walking along the sidewalk in front of the hotel. An unusually heavy gust of the high wind had been prevailing all day sent about twenty-five or thirty bricks to the ground. Several persons were on the sidewalk, but all escaped the flying missiles with the exception of the two boys.

Cuneo was struck squarely on the head by one of the bricks and his skull crushed in. He died almost instantly and his remains were taken to the morgue.

With badly confused legs and arms, Castro was taken to the Central emergency hospital, where it was stated that he will recover in a few days.

Blowing with almost the velocity of a hurricane, the high north winds brought down wall after wall throughout the ruined district.

The high ruins of a building on Second street, near Market, toppled over with a roar and for minutes afterward only a drifting cloud of dust marked the place where the walls stood. The shell was over 100 feet high and the material was of immense weight, but fortunately no one was in the immediate neighborhood when the collapse occurred.

Another burned building on Leidesdorff street fell shortly afterward and the sudden detonation created momentary panic in the commercial section.

Large chimneys, the only remaining portions of high buildings, were thrown over by the wind as though they had been straws stuck in the earth. In many places scaffolding erected around new buildings was momentarily threatened and in some half constructed edifices the laborers were laid off on account of the danger from the gale.

The bay was unusually rough and shipping along the seawall suffered some damage by chafing and beating against the pier. Several vessels were obliged to change their moorings and there were a number of narrow escapes from collision.

"STRONGHEART" HAS FOOTBALL SETTING

Notable Play in Which Robert Edison Takes the Leading Part.

A play which has scored a tremendous success in every city in which it has been presented is that of "Strongheart," a college play by William C. Do Miller, in which Robert Edison interprets the leading role and which will be seen at the Barton next Friday night, Dec. 7th.

"Strongheart" is said to be "full of fun and football," the scenes being laid at Columbia university, New York. The second act of the play shows the training quarters of a football eleven between the halves of a big game, which is probably one of the most novel settings ever seen on the stage, and as for its being realistic, in speaking of Mr. Edison's description of his football game, Coach Vost of Michigan said: "It is so real that when the curtain went down my men felt like having a shower bath."

One scene, which bears the title, the football grounds, and the interesting songs of both colleges. The sale of seats will open next Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

SANTA FE SHUTS DOWN ON ORANGE SHIPPERS

Will Supply No More Refrigerator Cars for Tulare County—
Drunken Row at Lemon Cove Leads to Five Arrests.

VISALIA, Nov. 30.—The Santa Fe Railroad company has refused to supply any more refrigerator cars for the shipment of oranges and lemons from this county. The order, which has just gone into effect, will put a stop to the loading in or shipping to this city of citrus fruits by reloading onto Santa Fe cars, which have been done recently on account of a shortage of cars on the Southern Pacific.

Agent Marshall of this city says that the orders are that absolutely no more refrigerator cars are to be supplied for citrus purposes. If a refrigerator should arrive here to be unloaded it may be loaded with anything but oranges and lemons.

The reason of the Santa Fe's general refusal, Mr. Marshall states, is its desire, undoubtedly to supply its own customers first. There are many stations on the Santa Fe in the southern part of the state from which oranges are shipped annually, and the company does not feel like favoring these sections of its line that usually ship over another road, at the expense of its regular customers. There is a general shortage of cars on all lines and to this fact may be attributed the order that has just been issued.

However this may be, it does not seem apparent why, if a refrigerator should happen along, it might not be used for citrus purposes if the fruit were at hand with which to load it. That fact remains unexplained.

There is an agreement between the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific to route cars over either line shipped to Mojave. That is, a car may be loaded on the Southern Pacific here and routed over the Santa Fe from Mojave or vice versa, but this arrangement has no bearing on the question of whether cars can or will be provided.

With a large crop of oranges in this county this season and with practically no cars in which to route them, it would seem that the growers are up against a proposition for which there appears to be no speedy or adequate remedy this season.

Lemon Cove Row.
As a result of a drunken row at Lemon Cove yesterday, following a Thanksgiving dinner in which wine flowed freely, five men were arrested and brought to this city and two of them—some an engineer on the Lemon Cove railroad—were charged with assaulting an officer. The warrants of arrest were sworn to by Deputy Constable Clarkson, who, in attempting to quell the disturbance, was pelted upon and rather roughly handled.

It appears that the dinner was given by the train crew and a number of others, including several packers, at the orange packing houses were invited. There was turkey and the usual necessities and there were also several kinds of wine and beer.

It was not long until several who had gathered at the board were tipsy and the language became loud and impudent. A row was started and a fight became general. Officer Clarkson, who is a large man, in attempting to quell the combatants was set upon. He was struck in the stomach, his wind knocked out and rendered helpless. He telephoned to this city for assistance and Constable Newman responded. Five of the offenders, Charney Diamond, the engineer on the Lemon Cove road, D. L. Crawford, an electrician; Joe Sandridge, a barber; D. Vinson, a cook; and Jack Arthur, in charge of a packing crew, were brought to this city. The first two were charged with battery and the others with being drunk and disturbing the peace. The three latter pleaded guilty and were fined $10 each. Diamond and Crawford secured the services of H. T. Miller to represent them.

Diamond is well-known for his drinking propensities, he being asserted that he has on several occasions been too drunk to run his engine, which task has been given over to the fireman, although the former still sat in his cab.

Crawford made remarks to Constable Newman which might be termed threats when he learned that he might be arrested, but was as docile as a lamb when the warrant was served.

The complaint is made that when beer and spirits are brought to the Cove every Saturday and Sunday and drunken revels indulged in by rail road and packing house crews and others. These vulgar language and ribald songs have proved very annoying, particularly to women and children and various complaints have been lodged in the past. As a result Mr. Clarkson was deputized by Constable Newman of this city to preserve order. Late this afternoon Diamond and Crawford were arraigned, pleaded guilty and were fined $10 each, which they paid and were released.

Suit in Ejectment.
An action has been begun by Francis A. Rogers against Christian Miller to oust him from property described as the south half of the north half of section 10, 21-25, northeast of Tulare. Plaintiff alleges that he leased the premises to a defendant in August, 15, 1905, for the sum of $150 a year. That in May of this year Miller sub-let a part of the premises for $25 a month. This sub-letting was contrary to an agreement and order of court is asked for ejectment. Edwards & Smith are attorneys for plaintiff.

A Year in Jail.
A. M. Powell, charged with shooting at Oscar Van Busen and Chester Doyle from ambush in the mountains near Springville, and convicted of assault with a deadly weapon, was sentenced this morning by Judge Wallace to serve one year in the county jail. C. H. Lamberson, attorney for Powell, was present and made a motion for a new trial which was denied. He also made a plea for leniency. It is understood that no appeal will be taken and that Powell will at once begin serving his sentence. He is now in jail.

Benjamin G. Kaufman of San Francisco, for wifery of this city, and Kate Kirby of Visalia were married this afternoon, Rev. R. H. Sanders officiating.

COPPER KING CLOSES DOWN

The Copper King mine, which has been operated under the direction of Robert George A. Aile of San Francisco, has been shut down. There are still 1,500 tons of ore to be hoisted and shipped. All the mineral ions have been paid and a fifth of the claims transferred by Aile. It is rumored that the mine may be taken up by capitalists interested in it before and worked on a larger scale.

THE FRESNO MORNING REPUBLICAN

WEATHER

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—Forecast: San Joaquin valley—Cloudy Saturday, possibly showers; light west winds.

FRESNO, Nov. 30.—High barometric pressure dominates the eastern states, accompanied by generally fair, cool weather, light winds, mostly as far south as Davisville. A shallow depression is central over the upper lake region, causing light snow over Minnesota, portions of the Missouri, Mississippi and Ohio valleys, and the lower lakes. A disturbance of considerable magnitude is moving eastward from the Gulf of California, raising light rains in Southern California and snow over Colorado. Light rain or snow fell also over Oklahoma, and portions of Oregon and Montana. An area of high pressure is moving southeastward from British Columbia causing a sudden and decided fall in temperature, with severe frost throughout the Pacific slope. Fair or breezy weather will continue at Fresno and vicinity Saturday, with light frost in the morning.

DID NOT TRY TO SAVE HER

Chester Gillette Left Grace
Brown to Drown.

Although an Experienced Swimmer He Did Nothing to Rescue Her.

HERKIMER, N. Y., Nov. 30.—The trial of Chester Gillette for the murder of his sweetheart, Grace Brown, practically came to a close today, so far as the taking of evidence is concerned.
The defense, while reserving the right to swear one witness tomorrow, rested this afternoon. The remainder of the afternoon was spent by the district attorney in recalling several witnesses in rebuttal.

Gillette went through the ordeal of examination without wavering in the slightest degree in his testimony as to the actual death scene in Big Moose lake. He apparently had made up his mind to take his time in answering the district attorney's questions. Gillette withstood a searching cross-examination at the hands of the district attorney astonishingly well.

When he finally stepped down from the box, he was as calm and unruffled as he was a week ago, when he sat indifferently all through the court's proceedings. Gillette today swore that many of the things he said and wrote, and which the prosecution took as the links in its chain of evidence, were simply falsehoods, concocted for one reason or another, and that many of the things he had done were merely acts of cowardice.

HERKIMER, N. Y., Nov. 30.—Chester
Gillette told his story of Grace Brown's death again today, this time in response to questions put to him by a prosecutor, who picked out every day in the accused young man's testimony. For three hours district attorney Ward questioned Gillette and,
to the surprise of everyone in the room,
he stepped down to go to dinner as he was when he walked into court this morning.

Gillette, when he resumed his seat on the witness stand, looked at his counsel and district attorney Ward cautioned him that he must face the jury when answering questions.

Ward read from Gillette's letter to Grace Brown under date of June 23th, in which he said he had been to Little York lake, bathing with some boys.

"If Gillette, if you had struck Grace Brown at Big Moose lake and strangled her, would you have told the officer?" asked Ward.

"Yes," answered the district attorney. "If you struck Grace Brown with that tennis racket, would you come here and tell this jury you did it?"

"I cannot say," answered
Gillette.

Here Gillette for a second diverted his glance from the jury and Ward shouted: "Look at the jury and not at your counsel."

Attorneys Mills and Thomas interposed objection to the district attorney's manner toward the witness and the court sustained them, holding that Ward had no right to direct the witness in his gaze.

"When did you first know Grace Brown was to become a mother?" asked the district attorney.

"Was it in April, when she left Cortland for South Orelia, when you first knew it?"

"I cannot state," answered
Gillette.

Gillette said his attitude toward the girl had not changed with her condition because known to him.

"Did you still love her?" asked the district attorney.

"I did," answered Gillette with a shrink of the head.

Gillette was shown the films that he took on his trip to Bear mountain.

"Gillette, you swore the other day for your counsel that these films I hold here were never exposed, didn't you?"

"Yes," answered Gillette.

"And then after you had sworn to that you told your counsel not to examine you any further on that point, didn't you?"

"I cannot state," answered
Gillette.

A picture of Natalie Benedict was on the roll of films in Gillette's suit case.
Gillette had sworn that the film was unexposed.

Miss Benedict is the Cortland girl whom it was first claimed Gillette wanted to marry. Miss Benedict swore on the stand that she was not engaged to Gillette.

Gillette during the examination stated that his version of the tragedy as narrated by Under Sheriff Klock a few minutes after his arrest, was to the effect that the affair was an accident and that he had tipped the boat over while they were picking pond lilies, was a lie.

"Now did your attorneys tell you a different story than the one you told Under Sheriff Klock?" asked the district attorney.

"They did, they told me to tell the truth," answered Gillette.

Gillette replied in the affirmative when district attorney Ward asked him if he swam to shore and left Grace Brown to die in the lake.

Witnesses describing the girl's act in leaping into the water to her death, said she jumped from the stern of the boat, that he shouted for help, that no one responded and that he tried to find out how deep the water was there.

"Did you try to reach her?"
"No."
"Yet you say you swam in the Pacific ocean,"
"I did."

"And you did not swim to this girl's aid?"
"I did not."

"When she leaped into the water from the boat, what did you say you did?"
"I held out my hand toward her.
Then the boat tipped over."

"And you who had swam in the lakes in Washington and in the Pacific ocean left Grace Brown there without swimming to her aid?"

The cross-examination of Gillette was resumed in the afternoon.

"When you got out of the water,
did you have any intention of keeping the engagement with Miss Patrick and Miss Westcott at Seventh lake?"
asked the district attorney.

"No."
"When did you think of keeping that engagement?"
"When I got to Arrowhead, Wednesday night."

"The night of the day Grace Brown died."
"Did it ever occur to you to go back to Big Moose and find the body of Grace Brown, the girl you say you loved, lying there in the water?"
"I cannot remember."

"Did you look back into the lake to see if Grace Brown had hold of the boat?"
"No."

"Did you see this coat of hers?"
"No."
"But you looked back to be sure that she was underneath?"

Objecting to this examination of Gillette was concluded.

William Steinburgh of Cortland, rec-cited to hearing a conversation between the girl and Gillette in which he said they talked of going to the North Woods. When she went away, Stein-burgh said, she said, "Good-bye, Stein-burgh, I'll probably never see you again."

TUCSON, Ariz., Nov. 30.—The Sonora railroad, the southern extension of the Southern Pacific system, from Nogales, Arizona, to Guaymas, state of Sonora, Mexico, is completely halted as a result of a strike which has up as its object securing the release of Jesse M. Reitz, held in Hermosillo,
Mexico, on a charge of manslaughter.

Reitz was the engineer of a passenger train which killed a Yaqui Indian while walking on the track near Her-mosillo Saturday. Reitz was arrested and at a preliminary hearing Tuesday was held for trial in default of $5000 bail.

By preconcerted arrangement, all trains on the road were pulled into Hermosillo yesterday and abandoned by the crews, who refuse to move the trains until Reitz is released. No trainmen can be induced to cross the line from Nogales to help break the strike. American Consul Brick Wood, of Nogales, and Vice Consul Hostetter, of Hermosillo are working on the matter. Representatives have been made to the authorities at Washington, D.
C., and at the City of Mexico.

OREGON HANGING
SALEM, Ore., Nov. 30.—Fred Shepperd was hanged at the penitentiary today for the murder of Benjamin F.
Seall in Crook county on September 24th. On the scaffold Sheppard confessed the murder and said someone was guilty with him, but he did not give the name. On September 24th, in the early morning, Sheppard shot Benjamin F. Seall, his employer, at his ranch and then assaulted his wife.

Steamer St. Paul Delayed
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—A wireless message from the steamer St. Paul says the vessel has encountered extremely severe weather during the voyage from Europe. She will be about twenty-four hours late in reaching her dock.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The dissension which for the last year have prevailed
in the ranks of the teamsters' union
here today were carried into the trial
of Cornelius P. Shea, who in company with sixteen other men is on trial for alleged conspiracy in connection with the great teamsters' strike of June, 1905.

Albert Young, former president of the teamsters' union, A. Kelly,
business agent of the teamsters' union,
and William Murphy, said to have been a member of the "wrecking crew" during the strike, withdrew
their pleas of not guilty and entered pleas of guilty. All of the men declared their intention of turning state's evidence.

The incident caused great excitement
in the courtroom and took the other
defendants completely by surprise.
Shea and Young had for years been close friends and had worked through a number of strikes side by side. Since the last convention of the teamsters'
union, however, they have been opposed to each other.

As soon as court opened today, Attorney Jerry Brown, who has not previously appeared in the case, addressed Judge Hall, saying:

"Your honor, I desire to give notice
that I herewith enter my appearance as counsel for the following named defendants in the case of Albert Young,
William Kelly and William Murphy."

The attorneys for the defense showed
their surprise at this announcement,
and a moment later, when it was announced that all three men desired to enter pleas of guilty, they were for a time taken completely aback. President Shea turned in his chair and stared stare at Young, who returned his look with one of indifference. The statement was then made by Attorney
Brown that his clients would turn state's evidence.

The attorneys for the defense then
informed the court that they demanded the right of requesting the questions regarding the acquaintance of the jurors with Attorney Brown. The court overruled this and an objection
was taken by the defense. A recess
until this afternoon was requested by
the defense and granted.

The trouble between Young and Shea
resulted from the effort made by the former to secure the presidency of the

represents an element in the union opposed to Shea and dissatisfied with his methods of conducting the Chicago strike. Shea was re-elected and Young
then organized a rival organization
which is known as the United Teamsters of America. Since the creation of the latter body there has been bitter strife between the teamsters and assaults and fights on the streets have occurred frequently.

When court resumed in the afternoon, the defense renewed its efforts to obtain a delay. It was declared by the attorneys for the defense that the action of Young, Kelly, Murphy and Schultz, in changing their pleas, had so taken the defense by surprise that it was impossible for the defense to proceed. Judge Hall overruled the request of the defense, and ordered the trial to proceed.

The afternoon was taken up by Assistant State's Attorney Miller, who outlined the case of the state.

A SURPRISE FOR MR. SHEA

Fellow Prisoners Turn State's Evidence.

Albert Young, Shea's Rival,
and Two Others Enter Pleas of Guilty.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—The dissen-
sion which for the last year have prevailed
in the ranks of the teamsters' union
here today were carried into the trial
of Cornelius P. Shea, who in company
with sixteen other men is on trial for
alleged conspiracy in connection with
the great teamsters' strike of June, 1905.

Albert Young, former president of
the teamsters' union, A. Kelly,
business agent of the teamsters' union,
and William Murphy, said to
have been a member of the "wrecking
crew" during the strike, withdrew
their pleas of not guilty and entered
pleas of guilty. All of the men declared their intention of turning state's
evidence.

The incident caused great excitement
in the courtroom and took the other
defendants completely by surprise.
Shea and Young had for years been
close friends and had worked through
a number of strikes side by side. Since
the last convention of the teamsters'
union, however, they have been opposed to each other.

As soon as court opened today, Attorney Jerry Brown, who has not previously appeared in the case, addressed Judge Hall, saying:

"Your honor, I desire to give notice
that I herewith enter my appearance
as counsel for the following named defendants in the case of Albert Young,
William Kelly and William Murphy."

The attorneys for the defense showed
their surprise at this announcement,
and a moment later, when it was announced that all three men desired to enter pleas of guilty, they were for a time taken completely aback. President
Shea turned in his chair and stared
stare at Young, who returned his
look with one of indifference. The
statement was then made by Attorney
Brown that his clients would turn
state's evidence.

The attorneys for the defense then
informed the court that they demanded the right of requesting the questions regarding the acquaintance of the jurors with Attorney Brown. The court overruled this and an objection
was taken by the defense. A recess
until this afternoon was requested by
the defense and granted.

The trouble between Young and Shea
resulted from the effort made by the former to secure the presidency of the International Teamsters' union. He represents an element in the union opposed to Shea and dissatisfied with
his methods of conducting the Chicago
strike. Shea was re-elected and Young
then organized a rival organization
which is known as the United Teamsters of America. Since the creation

strife between the teamsters and

action of Young, Kelly, Murphy and

quest of the defense, and ordered the
trial to proceed.

sistant State's Attorney Miller, who

I Guarantee Everything

In buying my land, the buyer takes no risk whatever, as I stand behind everything. With the land I deed a pro rata portion of the pumping plant, which I guarantee to be of sufficient capacity to properly handle to irrigate all the land. I also guarantee the wells to furnish sufficient water to irrigate all the land as often as is necessary to raise the crops.

I further make the unheard of proposition of guaranteeing the land, which is something new in the land business. But I know what it is and am willing to back it up with my whole fortune, and if you are not satisfied after the crop is raised, notify me and I will cheerfully pay your money back.

Remember, in buying this land you are locating in 1 to 2 miles of Mendota, are getting some of the best land in Fresno county, have an everlasting water right at cost, have the water for domestic and garden purposes piped to your door, and if you are not perfectly satisfied, get your money back. Can you equal it? The land will be divided and sold, beginning December 15th, 1906. Give your choice. For further information write S. L. Heisinger, Kingsburg, Cal., or see G. E. SOCIAL AND CLUB NEWS

A most delightful affair was the postponed Thanksgiving dinner with which Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sutherland entertained a party of friends last night at their pretty home on Midway avenue. It was just an informal gathering, but very merry with. Cherry red decorations graced the inviting looking table. In the center of which was a candelabra containing red shaded candles and surrounded by gorgeous red roses and similar. In the place cards, the hostess had put upon a happy idea, the quotation which they were suggesting, the characteristics of the guest for whom they were intended. As may be imagined this began the dinner with jollity which characterized the pleasant affair at which the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Duncan D. Allison, Judge and Mrs. George E. Church, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Cook and Mrs. Myra Webster.

Mrs. John D. Gray entertained the members of the Alpha Whist club yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Adam Moviat on Midway avenue.

An informal little gathering of young people at the home of Miss Margarette Robb on Yosemite avenue last night, was a pleasant Friday night diversion for some of the members of the younger social set who take Friday night for frolicking after the studies of the week. Games of "300" and other games entered into the young people at this happy affair, which concluded with refreshments.

The members of the Kaffee Klatch are to enjoy a delightful day with Mrs. John D. Morgan on White's Bridge road today, when she entertains a club at a luncheon, postponed from Wednesday, on account of Thanksgiving preparations.

Miss Laella Swift is spending the week end with Miss Violet Hodgkin at her home on the Barton road.

Rev. E. M. Carlson, pastor of the Swedish Mission church, and Mrs. Carlson entertained friends at a delightful Thanksgiving dinner on Thursday at their home, No. 1482 P street. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers and greens and the dinner table was most inviting to look upon, laden with its feast of good things and tastefully decorated in white chrysanthemums and similar. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Anderson, Mrs. Swenson, Cor Amy and Elven Carlson.

Mrs. S. W. Norton was a Thanksgiving day hostess entertaining a pleasant little party of young people at her hospitable San Pablo avenue home. Pink roses and ferns made the table very dainty and attractive and the place cards matched in design the decorations. With Mr. and Mrs. Norton at table were Miss Sophie Walters, of Madras, Mrs. Maude Peterson, Miss Nellie Connelly, George Sanderson and Lawrence Norton.

A party of sixty friends planned a very happy surprise on Mr. and Mrs. William Sudden on last Monday evening at their home on Elm avenue. The affair was arranged as a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Sudden, who will move to their new home in Mount Campbell.

SELMA HAPPENINGS.

Merced Roller Polo Team Defeated By Home Team.

SELMA, Nov. 29.—Selma defeated Merced last evening in a roller polo game at the rink. The Selma team scoring 2 points to Merced's 0. It was a lively game from start to finish as the Merced team is a strong one and it came with the determination of winning against the very little fellows composing Selma's back team. The Selma boys will play Madras tomorrow evening.

The first big masquerade of the season was held at the pavilion on Wednesday evening and about 300 people were present to enjoy the playlets of the occasion. The poverty of being masked on rollers added to the enjoyment. Prizes were awarded as follows: Miss Beatrice Summers, best fully dressed lady; Ray and Ellsworth, best gentlemen skaters; Miss Nellie Scott, best dressed lady; Bert Chappell, best dressed skater; Miss Clara Paul as Christmas tree, most original character.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the White Street M. E. church gave a turkey and chicken dinner on Thanksgiving day and many of Selma's citizens enjoyed the affair, which took place in the banquet room of the L. O. O. F. hall. The ladies prepared a splendid dinner and all did full justice to the abundance of good things. About 8000 was realized.

The postoffice department has changed the rural delivery hours of the Selma carriers, the rural deliverymen leaving the postoffice at 9:15 in-stead of 8:30. The change went into effect this week.

Selma camp, W. O. W., has elected officers as follows: E. S. Olson, grand commander; J. H. Kline, adviser; Lieutenant J. H. Peak, leader; J. A. Dodson, clerk; H. C. Wilson, secretary; J. W. Stewart, watchman; C. D. Allsberry, Dr. J. H. Wagner, and Dr. O. V. Steward, physicians; J. C. Dodson, surgeon.

Robert Broyles and Lucas Hart are to remain at Selma to remain during the winter months. Broyles has purchased a 29-acre tract, 1/2 mile and one-half miles south of Selma from Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hayes. R. T. Staley and family of San Francisco were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Staley on Thanksgiving day. They will return home tomorrow.

George E. and S. L. Heisinger were over from Mendota yesterday to spend Thanksgiving with their families.

F. C. Houseworth and wife of Leifanon and Mrs. William Saint of Dayton, Ohio, have been guests of F. H. Stoker and family this week. Mr. Houseworth is editor of the Western Star, a newspaper established in 1806.

James H. Westendorp of Riverside, will deliver a lecture on "Our Government" at the M. E. church South next Wednesday evening.

Attorney Joel H. Smith and family spent their Thanksgiving in Fresno as the guests of friends.

Murderer Died in Jail.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 29, James Brady, who murdered Mrs. Flora Shannon as the result of a lovers' quarrel three weeks ago, died in the County hospital last night. Brady turned his revolver on himself when he had killed his sweetheart and the wounds proved fatal.

colony on the 1st of December. Their Eastern friends are very sorry to see them leave their home, where they have lived for sixteen years and are most highly esteemed.

Musical and games made the evening a delightful one for the young people, while their elders enjoyed a pleasant social time in a quiet way. A beautiful spread of dainties constituted the refreshments.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Swedish Mission church is planning for an elaborate banquet to be held very soon in the church. The exact date has not been announced, but will be very short.

Miss Sophie Walters of Madras is the guest for a fortnight of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Norton on San Pablo avenue.

A reunion of the children and grandchildren of a well-known pioneer family of Fresno, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Morton, took place on Thanksgiving day at their home on the White's Bridge road. The affair was a complete surprise to the parents, and after hearty greetings the party assembled about a big table in the dining room, where they partook of a delicious feast. Mr. Morton and family came to California in the fall of '70 and finally settled in Fresno twenty-five years ago.

Among the guests at the reunion were:

Messrs. and Mesdames A. C. Morton, A. J. Morton, R. A. Morton, W. T. Morton, H. W. Staub, M. S. Drake, F. H. Morton, L. L. Jolly, L. W. Christensen, Mrs. G. E. France, Mrs. Harry Sanford, Miss Mary Staub, Harold Aertson, Douglas Morton, Gladys Morton, Elliott Morton, Paul Morton, Herbert Morton, Clara Morton, Dolph Morton, Viola Morton, Glenn Morton, Bernice Drake, Ralph Drake, Leslie Drake, Wallace Christensen, Walter Sanford and Clinton Morton.

Miss Hedrich Zimmerman, one of the early December brides, was the complimentary guest at a charming little dinner given last night by Mrs. Ellis Crane, who herself is a bride of but six months and will be remembered as Miss Jessie Davis. The pretty little cottage on Valerian street was decorated for the occasion and the dinner table was bright and cheerful in simple and red winter robes. With the host and hostess about this attractive table were gathered Miss Benish Zimmerman, Miss Frankie Zimmerman, Miss Orla Malcom, Miss Emma Glass and Miss Nellie and Lela Brandt.

Miss Lena Redington is down from Oakland, spending a week-end with Mrs. George Helm. Miss Redington makes frequent little runs down from Oakland for over-Sunday visits, but this is the first visit she has made since last spring and her friends here are delighted to have her even for a flying visit. She returns to Oakland Sunday.

At the home of James Fee, 1217 J street, on Thanksgiving day gathered four generations of the Fee family about the Thanksgiving feast table. The guests were: Mrs. Annie Fee and Miss Sadie Fee of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. John Fee with their two children, Miss Leeta and Master John Fee, Jr., and James Fee.

MR. AND MRS. BRONGE HURT BY STREET CAR

Serious Collision Thursday Night on the Arlington Heights Branch.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bronge, while driving home Thanksgiving night, were thrown from their buggy by collision with an Arlington Heights car at the intersection of Tulare street and Tulare avenue. Mrs. Bronge, who was driving, and who was injured, and her husband, who was seated beside her, were the most severely injured, and it was feared at the time that she had been fatally hurt. Mr. Bronge was stunned for a few seconds, but immediately upon reaching his senses went to the aid of his wife. In the meantime, James Gallagher had been summoned by Mr. Bronge's son, who was riding ahead of them on his bicycle. Mrs. Bronge was removed to the home of H. H. Langdon, where she was cared for until an ambulance could be secured to remove her to a hospital.

She had received a deep gash over the eye, her shoulder was wrenched and she was otherwise bruised and injured. The car was in charge of Motorist Fentry and Conductor Liscomb. They say that the car was going only eight miles an hour and the accident was caused by the horse suddenly crossing the track. Mr. Langdon, into whose house the couple were taken, says the tracks show that the buggy crossed the track twice in front of the car. Bronge blames the car men for the accident. He says the car was going at a high rate of speed and that the lights on the buggy and the horse, a valuable roadster, ran away.

FEW CASES IN LOWER COURTS

William Howard No. 2 Appears Before Briggs Charged With Grand Larceny.

The case of William Howard No. 2, charged with grand larceny, came up before Judge Briggs yesterday afternoon and he was held on bail of $500. This is not the same William Howard who is awaiting trial in the Supreme court on assault on the two McLean boys. The defendant in yesterday's case is alleged to have taken some jewelry and other valuables from the home of J. J. Rozold on White avenue. The proceedings were instituted by Rozold, by whom Howard was employed at the time of the commission of the crime. The trial was not set, pending the investigation of the officers into the case. From the evidence presented it does not appear that there is a very strong case against the man.

Two Italians, who could speak but little English, charged with disturbing the peace, were given a lecture by the judge and permitted to go. A son of John Doe drinks more than 100 after making promises to keep sober.

Municipal League Invitations.

Two hundred and fifty invitations to the coming city convention of the California Municipal League were sent yesterday from the office of City Clerk Ryan. Every city clerk in the State was notified in this way of the meeting, which is to be held Dec. 12th to 15th in this city. In all cases where the city government provides for a mayor, that official was invited also.

IN THE LODGE ROOM.

the annual meeting of Fresno lodge, No. 217, Free and Accepted Masons, took place last evening. Nine elective officers were chosen as follows: Worshipful master, J. L. Beall; senior warden, W. J. Kittrell; junior warden, A. L. Smith; treasurer, Joe Cammiller; secretary, J. D. Galloway; trustee, George Cochrane.

Mr. Beall succeeds as master of Fresno lodge A. R. Smith, who has filled this office for two consecutive years.

J. L. BEALL, Master of Fresno Lodge, F. & A. M.

The installation ceremonies of the lodge will take place late in December. The appointive officers will be filled later by the new master.

Rathbone Sisters.

Prosperity temple, Rathbone Sisters, held one of the most successful socials of the season last night in Knights of Columbus hall. The business session was brief, and almost the entire evening was given to sociability. The hall was filled with visitors and the ladies had spared no efforts in arranging for a delightful evening of gaiety. The social which Prosperity temple give are always anticipated with interest and pleasure, but last night's entertainment eclipsed all former efforts and, both socially and financially, was a big success, causing no little rejoicing among the members, who were much gratified to find how greatly their efforts had been appreciated to give their guests a good time. Progressive peddle hold sway for several hours, the game being merely resumed at the dozen or more tables placed throughout the prettily decorated hall. At the close, handsome prizes were awarded the successful contestants and a trophy to the lowest scorer. Delicious refreshments had been prepared by the committee, which included Mrs. Sadie Rob, Mrs. Flora Pugh, Mrs. Annie Glee, Mrs. George Ricker, Mrs. Cal Rich. Until midnight the merriment continued, the guests being unanimous in their judgment that the social was one of particular enjoyment.

The first prize was won by Bob Rich, the second by Mrs. C. M. Shannon and the third by Mark Hutchinson. Cal Rich and Charles A. Elise qualified for the booty prizes.

Royal Neighbors.

A short business session was held last night by Sunrise camp, Royal Neighbors. It was a rather quiet evening, as all attention is centered upon the election next week and the entertainment in two weeks of the Ute's camp, who have fifteen candidates to be initiated. The initiation ceremonies are to be followed by a big banquet. For next week, in addition to the election, which is an important matter of business, there will be some novel features of entertainment. There is some talk of a ball to be given during the holidays, but the plans are not matured as yet.

I. O. O. F. Encampment.

Encampment, No. 78, I. O. O. F., met last night for a brief business meeting, after which the banquet held a session at which nomination of officers took place. The election of officers in both the camp and the encampment will take place next month.

EXPIRED SUDDENLY OF HEART DISEASE

G. A. Morris Found Dead Yesterday Morning in Coalings.

G. A. Morris, a (smith of Coalings, died suddenly yesterday morning of heart failure. Coroner Cochrane held an inquest over the body of the dead man and the verdict of the jury was that Morris came to his death from natural causes. He had been suffering from heart trouble for several weeks and had been operated on without relief. On Wednesday he could not attend to his work and the next day was confined to his bed. Thursday night he was very restless, being up most of the night. He was passed early in the morning and after a search his body was found in an upstairs room. The jury at the inquest consisted of John Lyman, S. Mantel, W. O. Rogers, J. V. Hall, S. B. Owen, J. D. Hauser, Charles Brady and Robert Hauser.

Morris was a native of California, and 26 years of age. He has a mother in San Francisco and several brothers.

DONATIONS CONTINUE TO CLOTHING FUND

The work of providing the children of this city who might not otherwise be able to attend school with shoes and clothing continues under the auspices of the civic department of the Public Lecture club and the school authorities. Contributions are coming in steadily and are being taken care of at the Public Lecture club.

Recent contributions of cash should be especially acknowledged among them being: From the Millmen's union $15, from the Kutter estate $100, from J. E. Hofer $25, from Radin & Kamp $50. The last three contributions are to be spent at the stores of the donors. Many small donations of $1 and $2 each have been received.

Careful records are kept of all the orders for clothing or shoes that are given out, so that there may be no waste of the generosity. The system that has been inaugurated all over the state, with special emphasis in Fresno, for compelling all children of school age to attend school, has an apparent blessing. Such children are deprived of opportunities of earning small sums in the harvest season that have helped many families, and in many cases these children have insufficient clothing to attend school. It is hoped that the charitable contributions will continue.

RAILROAD PRESIDENTS KILLED IN WRECKS

Editor Republicans: In your editorial of yesterday you seem to infer that the killing of a railway president in a collision would have a greater effect for carelessness in the operation of trains than the killing of a college president. How frequently is it necessary to kill a railroad president in order to teach the railroad companies to operate their trains and the public may be reasonably assured of safety while traveling?

A similar accident occurred about sixteen years ago. At that time I was engaged in making a location survey for a railroad in the Pacheco Pass country. H. D. Moody, the president of the company, had gone East to complete the financing of the enterprise, and on his return trip, while traveling in a "beeper" on the Pacific coast, he was instantly killed by a rear-end collision. This accident caused the suspension of the work, otherwise the construction of the road would have been under way within sixty days.

TRYING OLD DAMAGE SUIT

Antonian Wants $15,000 for Loss of Leg.

His Wheel Struck By Southern Pacific Train at Tulare Street Crossing.

The Southern Pacific Railroad company is fighting a damage suit for $15,000 in department two of the Superior court, one of the many cases in the chapter of accidents that took place in the summer of 1905. These accidents were the principal cause of the feeling that resulted in the Board of Trustees calling for relief from the railroad for the bad conditions at the Tulare street crossing, and resulted in the undertaking of the construction of the Fresno street subway and the installation of gates in Tulare street.

Paul Antonian is the plaintiff in the present case. On the evening of August 17th, about 9 o'clock, he was returning to his home in the southwest part of town from the business center, when he received injuries that compelled the amputation of one leg at the knee. In court yesterday he was represented by Southernland & Harbour, while Attorney L. L. Cory appeared for the company.

The following jury was drawn before Judge Austin to try the case: N. H. Nettles, G. R. G. Glenn, P. H. Montana, T. R. Hunt, G. W. Statham, H. Peterson, J. T. Hayes, William H. Hinton, A. L. Nelson, Arthur McAfee, O. M. Thompson and Charles Erickson. The submission of evidence was taken up in the afternoon and did not occupy a very long time. Deputy County Surveyor T. R. Harrell testified to the lay of the tracks at the crossing. Then Antonian himself went on the stand to tell his story. He said that he was riding down Tulare street on the evening in question, and that as he reached the crossing there were cars standing on the north side of the street preventing his seeing up the track. He suddenly saw that a train was backing toward him, and tried to dash across the rails to get ahead of it. Then he was struck and his leg was caught under the wheels. The foot was crushed.

On cross examination by Attorney Cory, Antonian said that when he first saw the train it was about eight feet from him. He thought that he had time to get ahead of it, and hastened his speed across. His rear wheel was struck by the train.

Dr. T. N. Sample was the last witness for the plaintiff. He described the injuries to the plaintiff, and the necessity of amputation.

Mr. Cory now moved for a non-suit on the ground that the testimony of the complaining witness itself showed that the accident had been avoidable on his part. If the train was still eight feet away before Antonian got on the track, said he, he could have stopped and escaped injury, and it is the rule of law that the responsibility for an accident rests upon the last person who has a chance to prevent it.

The motion for a non-suit was taken under advisement by the court until 9 o'clock this morning.

Upson's Appeal Argued.
Attorney Henry Brickley yesterday afternoon argued his motion to appeal on behalf of J. L. Upson, recently convicted of keeping a house of ill-fame. Upson, the owner of a block of buildings of that character, was arrested by the police in pursuit of the department policy of preventing certain evils to re-open.

The hearing yesterday took place before Judge Church in department two of the Superior court. Deputy District Attorney Kauke represented the prosecution. The points made by Attorney Brickley were that Police Judge Irigoin erred in his instructions, saying that the instructions tended to prejudice the jury in reply to the contention of the defense that the contention of the buildings, he while Upson owned the buildings, he was not personally aware that they were being run as a house of ill-fame, although he was in and out of them every day.

Attorney Brickley desired to submit a few authorities to the court, and was allowed two days to do so, when the case will be taken under advisement.

Officials File Bonds.
Several newly elected officials filed their official bonds yesterday. County Auditor Barnum filed his certificate of election and with it a bond for $10,000. Public Administrator-elect, Andrews filed a bond with his certificate for $25,000. George B. Graham, elected to the judicial office of city justice, banded himself in the sum of $1000 to carry out properly the duties of the position.

Mrs. Rose Carbelli has begun suit for divorce from Frank Carbelli, Christian & St. John are her attorneys. Final account of the estate of Giovanni Cavason, an Italian who died in Fresno about a year ago, was filed. The property does not amount to more than $200 or $300. The parents of the deceased live in Italy.

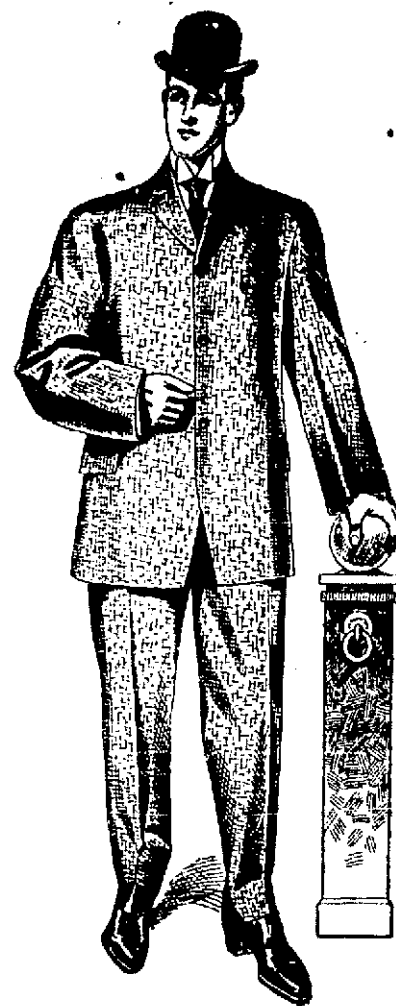

RALPH ROSE MADE NEW WORLD'S RECORD IN PUTTING THE SHOT.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—At the track and field day meet of the Olympic club yesterday a world's record was made by Ralph Rose, who put it 55 feet 11 1/2 inches. This is one and a half inches further than the distance covered by G. B. Gray of the New York A. C. at Travis Island in 1902. In the high jump and jump, T. Rogers, of the Emerald Athletic club, covered 46 feet 2 1/2 inches, breaking the coast record by one foot 1/2 inches.

FIRE IN PITTSBURG DAMAGED THE PLANT OF STATIONERY COMPANY

PITTSBURG, Nov. 30.—Fire of unknown origin broke out early today in the stationery department of the Budd Manufacturing company at 34 Second avenue and damaged the plant to the extent of several thousand dollars. The blaze was so fierce for a time that it threatened the adjoining structures and all the engines in the downtown district were summoned. Several firemen were slightly hurt by falling glass.

In the West "A Cheerful Lion" is reported to be playing to crowded houses. All the others out there must be going to see him.

TWO FLEETS ARE PLANNED

One for Atlantic and One for Pacific Coast.

Bureau of Navigation's Report In Favor of More Speedy Mobilization.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The completed plans for the organization of the fighting vessels of the navy into two fleets for service on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of the United States, in such manner that the whole force may be readily mobilized in case of emergency, is announced by Rear Admiral Converse, chief of the bureau of navigation of the navy department, in his annual report made public today.

The concentration of the battle fleet in the American waters and the assignment of all vessels therein to the command of one flag officer, will be completed about Jan. 1st next. Rear Admiral Converse said that, owing to our responsibilities in the Philippines and the Far East generally, an adequate naval force is needed in the Pacific ocean.

The tentative assignment of vessels is as follows:

Atlantic Fleet.
First squadron, first division: Connecticut, Louisiana, Maine, Missouri.
Second division: Georgia, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Virginia.
Second squadron, third division: Alabama, Illinois, Kearsarge, Kentucky.
Fourth division: Ohio, Indiana, Iowa.
Third squadron, fifth division: Tennessee, Washington, St. Louis.
Sixth division: Columbia, Des Moines, Cleveland, Tacoma.

Fourth squadron, seventh division: Dixie, Marietta, Newport, Don Juan de Austria.
Eighth division: Prairie, Duquesne, Potomac, Scorpion.

Seventh and eighth divisions will be held in reserve until their services are no longer required for police patrol duty.

In reserve: Texas, Brooklyn.
Second torpedo flotilla: Hopkins, Lawrence, Macdonough, Whipple, Truxtun, Warden.

Third torpedo flotilla: Wilkes, Blakeley, De Long, Rodgers, Stockton.
Asiatic Fleet.
First squadron, first division: West Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Colorado.

Second division: Baltimore, Chattanooga, Galveston, Cincinnati.
Second squadron, third division: Raleigh, Concord, Helena, Wilmington.
Fourth division: Galia, El Cano, Quaker, Villages.

Coast defense: Monterey, Monahan.
First torpedo flotilla: Bainbridge, Barry, Laffey, Chambers, Decatur.

Pacific Division.
Charleston, Milwaukee, Albany, New Orleans.
Second division: Chicago, Yorktown, Boston, Princeton.

Fourth torpedo flotilla: Frodo, Paul Jones, Perry, Farragut, Goldsborough, Rowan.

At an early date it is expected that the Asiatic fleet and the Pacific fleet will be merged into one Pacific fleet under the supreme command of a flag officer of the highest rank, in the same manner as the Atlantic fleet is organized.

The bureau of navigation is making every endeavor to secure a battleship strength of sixteen in the Atlantic fleet, divided into squadrons, which will be ready to receive the fleet for the practice of battle tactics and will enable the higher officers to acquire facility in the exercise of a large fleet and in maneuvering one homogeneous squadron against another.

Rear Admiral Converse says in his report that it has been a matter of deep consideration to the bureau whether or not the navy should add to the efficiency of the naval service if marines were withdrawn from all battleships. The idea of the bureau is that the marines should be drawn from the same class as the marines and are able to efficiently perform the service now assigned to marines. It is said that the presence of marines suggests to the enlisted men of the navy that the former are there for police duty and their presence is frequently resented.

The grade of vice admiral will be received in the navy if then a department adopts the recommendation made by Rear Admiral Converse. He says that at least two vice admirals should be created for the commanders of the Atlantic and Asiatic fleets, who will soon have under them subordinate naval officers and a large number of ships.

EMERYVILLE RACES

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—The talent fared luckily in the second event at Emeryville today, when Major Tennyson found the muddy going to his taste, taking and clearing up a pot of money for his numerous backers. Results:

First race, five furlongs—Sam Barker, 111, (Graham) 7 to 1, won; Prince of Castile, 111, (Knapp) 10 to 1, second; Rose Cherry, 111, (A. Brown) 60 to 1, third. Time 1:01 3/5.

Second race, mile and 100 yards—Major Tennyson, 103, (Williams) 7 to 2, won; Nubleness, 112, (Knapp) 20 to 1, second; Trotter, 112, (A. Brown) 7 to 1, third. Time 1:51 4/5.

Third race, mile and 100 yards—Perry, 109, (Sullivan) even, won; Lone Wolf, 109, (Russell) 7 to 1, second; Tashell, 109, (Graham) 7 to 1, third. Time 1:50 4/5.

Fourth race, six furlongs—Shady Lad, 109, (Graham) 3 to 1, won; Tim Hurst, 107, (W. Hill) 8 to 1, second; Judge, 112, (Knapp) 2 to 1, third. Time 1:14 2/5.

Fifth race, one mile and 100 yards—Mason, 106, (McIntyre) 7 to 1, won; Dolomite, 182, (Hindert) 18 to 5, second; Fulleto, 108, (A. Brown) 30 to 1, third. Time 1:45 2/5.

Sixth race, seven furlongs—F. W. Barr, (Graham) 11 to 20, won; Lizard, 110, (Russell) 11 to 2, second; Stand Over, 107, (Dowling) 10 to 1, third. Time 1:28 1/5.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—On the appeal of the Goldsmiths' company, the appeal court today decided that gold or silver cases of all foreign-made watches, whether with or without works, must be assayed and Hall marked before they can be sold in Great Britain. Without works only foreign cases, without jewels, were liable to be stamped. An enormous industry in foreign watches was built up. The jewellers intend to appeal in the house of lords.

HILL MADE AN EXPOSURE

Mammoth Combine of Railroads Was Planned.

From Canadian Border to Mexico Was the Territory to Be Held.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 29.—In his testimony before the state railroad and warehouse commission, J. J. Hill made the most startling revelation that was ever brought out in a railroad magazine on the witness stand.

The questions of Attorney General Young had stirred the venerable "Empire Builder" to a high pitch of emotion. Hill indicated that nothing less than a colossal combination of all the railroads in the West between the Canadian border and the Mexican line had been planned, and that the movement was checked only by the refusal of one man to enter the combination. This man was himself.

Hill asserted and reiterated the honesty of his purposes in his great transactions, and especially of the last few years, and thereby made another almost equally remarkable disclosure.

Remarkable Showing.
The stockholders of the Great Northern road have received the equivalent of 147 per cent in dividends during the past year, made up of 7 per cent from the operation of the road, 40 per cent in the form of stock dividend, and 100 per cent from the one hand deal, the last being almost a free gift of Hill to his stockholders, inasmuch as he could have rightfully held that profit for his personal account. This was clearly demonstrated in the examination of Hill by Attorney General Young, who had charge of the examination.

Had Him Nettled.
When the questions method the railroad magnate, his venerable head shook and his finger trembled in the air in uncontrolled indignation. In the intensity of his feeling, he hinted at the plan for combination of all western railroads with himself at its head, which plan had not matured because of his refusal to take charge.

"I could have accepted," he said, "control of the lines in the West between the Canadian boundary and Mexico, but I refused, that I might continue in charge of my interests in the Northwest and the development of this part of the country."

Great Northern's Holdings.
Hill, after much cross-examination, admitted that the stock of the companies which the Great Northern had purchased, is still held by the Great Northern.

"You may sell such stocks at any time," said Young, "I suppose there is nothing to prevent you, and thus get double the money for these lines, as the Great Northern stock has already been bought and sold to cover their purchase price."

"Yes, the heavens may fall down and crush every one on earth," replied Hill with some heat, "but I don't think they will."

Issues of stock claimed to be in duplication were for St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba, $20,000,000; for Eastern Minnesota stock and bonds, $25,000,000; for William and Sioux Falls, $10,000,000.

Attorney General Young said he was considering proceedings to compel the retirement of one set of the stock.

PRICES CURRENT
CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—The wheat market was weak early in the day, on selling of the December option. The selling was largely due to more liberal receipts in the Northwest and to the assertions made by a Cincinnati trader that the winter wheat crop is in good condition and that there was on November 1st an exportable surplus of wheat in 1907 of 220,000,000 bushels.

Early offerings were taken largely by elevator interests. Later a prominent bull fought. May actively and this brought out a more general demand, which resulted in a complete recovery of the early loss. The late demand was based almost entirely upon the small shipments from Argentina for the week. May opened a shade lower to a shade at 78 to 78 1/2, sold between 77 3/4 and 78 1/4, and closed a shade higher at 78 1/2.

Liquidation of the December delivery had a weakening effect on the corn market. May closed 1/4 off at 43 1/2. Trading in oats was quiet and the market was steady. May closed at 24 1/2, unchanged from Wednesday.

LIVERPOOL.—Close. Wheat: December 43 3/4, March 45 3/4, May 45 1/2.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Wheat: December 41 1/2, May 41 3/4, cash 41 1/2. Barley: December 41 1/2, May 41 1/2, cash 41 1/2. Corn: December 41 1/2, May 41 1/2, cash 41 1/2.

NEW YORK.—Nov. 30.—Evaporated apples are firm on both spot and futures. Range 8 1/2, prime 7 1/2 to 7 3/4.

Prunes are in fair demand on spot, with the larger sizes particularly firm. Quotations range from 5 to 9 cents for California fruit.

Apples are unchanged. Choice 10, extra choice 10 1/2, fancy 10 1/2. Peaches are quiet but firm. Choice 12, extra choice 12 1/2, fancy 13.

Raisins are in comparatively moderate supply on spot and prices are firm. Loose muscatels 8 1/2, seeded raisins 7 1/2 to 10, London layers 8 1/2 to 10 1/2.

SOLID TRAIN OF NEW CARS

How Pacific Electric Does It for Los Angeles.

New Street Cars Will Be Equipped With Modern Devices for Safety.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—Early next month, the strongest and most modern train that ever passed over a transcontinental railroad will leave St. Louis for Los Angeles. It will be made up of eighteen passenger coaches, all painted red, and lettered in gilt, "Pacific Electric Railway." The value of these eighteen cars will be over $1,000,000, as far as known the most valuable passenger equipment in one train that ever came west of the Missouri river.

For the first time in the history of the St. Louis Car company and of electric railroading in the United States, a train of trolley cars will be shipped to their destination on their own wheels. No other cars ever used as a means of transport are so built and equipped that it would be possible to send them through on a steam road. These cars are standard throughout, both in gauge and the dimensions required by the Master Car Builders' association for cars to be hauled over a steam line. They are equipped also with automatic air and automatic safety couplers, both innovations in electric car construction. These features make it possible to couple the cars together, connect them from the first to last with air hose couplings and to the engine at the head of the train, and be run through as smoothly and easily as though they were intended for use exclusively on some steam line.

The saving in freight to the Pacific Electric on cars brought through on their own wheels over the practice of shipping each coach on a flat car, will be enormous. But it is not alone in the pecuniary saving that the advantage lies. The shipment of the cars and their handling will be largely facilitated, and they will be delivered in Los Angeles much earlier.

These new cars are said to be among the finest products of the modern car builders' art. They are steel reinforced throughout, and the open portion of the cars will be built up to the arm rests in order to avoid the inconvenience and annoyance of wind or cold air blowing in through a grillwork to chill the outside passenger and raise havoc with women's skirts. The new cars will be equipped with the new multiple control, which will allow trains to be run by a single motor man under the control of a single motorman. The unsightly, clumsy and space-killing controller box will be dispensed and placed beneath the floor of the car.

A crank about the size of that on a family coffee mill, resting under the hand of the motorman will be the only visible means of control. Through it the motorman will switch the current either full on, or full off. When the current is thrown on, the motors are saved from being burned out by an automatic device which allows the car to gather momentum gradually, and as the motors will bear the load.

As soon as the new cars arrive the Pacific Electric company will inaugurate the practice of running trains instead of individual cars to take care of traffic at rush hours to such points as Long Beach and Pasadena. These trains will consist of two, three or four cars, as the traffic may demand.

The electric idea of the management of the Pacific Electric to bring its cars through on its own wheels has been highly complimented, not only by the officials of the car company, but by local railroad men, as well, and the same plan is to be adopted by the Los Angeles-Pacific railway with the new cars which it expects to receive early next year.

LIVERPOOL.—Nov. 30.—The Prince of Wales, who was accompanied by the princess, today opened the new cotton exchange, here, a handsome building, just completed at a cost of $1,500,000. In his speech the prince referred emphatically to the efforts being made to develop the cultivation of British grown cotton with the object of making British cotton spinners partially independent of foreign supplies.

OPERATOR HAS DISAPPEARED

Southern Railway Wreck Due to His Blunder.

Two More Deaths Bring the Total Up to Seven—Funeral Plans.

LYNCHBURG, Va., Nov. 30.—The accident yesterday morning near Lawyers depot on the Southern Railway, in which President Samuel Spencer and his party lost their lives, is declared by a Southern railway official to have been due to the block telegraph wires being disregarded by Operator C. D. Mattox, who was in charge at night at the block station at Rangoon, four miles from Lawyers depot. Assistant General Superintendent E. P. Compton of the company today gave out the following statement:

"Investigation so far made of the accident develops the fact that Operator Mattox at Rangoon let train No. 33 into the block and disregarded the rules, and failed to proceed after the block signal was set at night. When the first section of train No. 37, the Southwest-bound vestibuled limited, approached Rangoon, Operator Mattox asked the operator at Lawyers for the block on No. 33. This was given by the operator at Lawyers, who did not know that No. 33 had gone in upon the block.

"No. 33 broke down at the south end of a curve and as soon as the train stopped the flagman ran back to prevent his train. As far as we learn the flagman had proceeded about 300 yards when he was in view on the curve. Engineer McKinney saw the signal and applied the emergency brakes, but he did not have time to leave his seat before the collision took place.

"An inspection of the telegraph wires in each of the block stations substantiates this belief. The sheet at Rangoon shows that No. 33 was given the block by Operator Mattox and the sheet at Lawyers shows that Mattox had notified the operator there that No. 33 was on the block and entitled to it.

"The company has a number of men scouring the country in the hope of locating Operator Mattox, but up to a late hour we have been unable to ascertain absolutely nothing as to his whereabouts."

The death of William Pollard, the porter in President Spencer's car, and J. W. Shaw, the negro fireman, both of whom died in the City hospital here last night, swelled the death list to seven in all.

County Coroner J. W. Davis is expected to take early action on the accident. He arrived at the scene of the wreck yesterday, but finding that the bodies had already been removed, he deferred until today.

The escape of E. A. Merrill of New York, private secretary to Spencer, the only survivor in the party on the private car, save for a porter, was miraculous. The injuries he sustained are not serious and he will be able to leave the City hospital here probably by the first of the week.

Identification was made today of the negro who was killed and his body buried. The victim was Benjamin Boyd, well known at Toledo, O., a dining car man, who was taken aboard Spencer's car for the trip.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The bodies of Charles D. Fisher and Frank T. Rowland, both of Baltimore, who were killed in the collision at Lawyers, Va., when President Samuel Spencer of the Southern railway lost his life, were sent to Baltimore early today.

D. W. Davis, the telegraph operator who was killed, was detailed to accompany the higher officials of the road on such trips as the one that ended so disastrously yesterday. It is said that when he was notified that he would be expected to accompany President Spencer and party on this occasion, he asked to be relieved, stating that it was the desire of his wife and himself to spend Thanksgiving with her parents in Alexandria, but it could not be arranged.

Superintendent of Transportation Taylor said today that all efforts of the company so far to locate Operator Mattox, who was operating the block signal (lower at the entrance of the block in which the accident occurred, had failed. Mattox is a native of Sandy Level, Va., and had been in the employ of the company for three years.

Funeral services over the body of Samuel Spencer will be held at St. John's church in this city Sunday. The interment will be in this city and will be private.

Many telegrams of sorrow have been received at the Spencer home from prominent railroad men throughout the country.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The body of General Philip Schuyler, who was killed in the wreck on the Southern railway, was brought to this city today. The funeral will take place tomorrow in Irvington, N. Y.

ROME, Nov. 30.—According to news received here today from Adie-Aleph, capital of Abyssinia, King Menelik is seriously ill and it is feared that grave disturbances are likely to occur in the struggle for the succession.

MEN NEEDED FOR BIG GUNS

President Will Urge Artillery Re-organization.

Large Sums Are to Be Expended on Forts of San Francisco.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—In his forthcoming message the President will make a strong recommendation for legislation providing for a reorganization of the coast artillery. The senate committee on military affairs has favorably reported a bill to separate the field artillery from the coast artillery on the ground that they are two distinct branches of the service.

A statement of the condition of the coast defenses of twenty-eight fortified ports shows that to man them there is to say, each man in his proper station, would require 40,765 men, and 1034 officers. There are today available at the different forts 10,713 men and 357 officers, scarcely enough to keep the guns and machinery from rusting.

At San Francisco are Forts Foster, Miley, Barry, Baker, Mason, Winfield Scott and McDowell. To man these would require 175 officers and 4208 men. There are available forty-two officers and 1400 men.

The coast defense plans call for the expenditure of $3,119,212 to complete the defenses of San Francisco, of which $439,600 is to be spent for guns, emplacement and carriages; $459,355 for submarine mine defenses; $334,052 for a central power plant; $193,000 for a reserve power plant; $105,000 for searchlights; $19,680 for modernizing older equipment and $1,478,901 for "sea control."

It will cost $1,473,901 to install a complete system of communication at San Francisco and it is a significant fact that this fire control installation will be the only one recommended to Congress this year, because there are no men available to care for others if they should be installed. For Fort Mason and McDowell at San Francisco, there are no men available at all.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—The syndicate planned by Messrs. S. & Co. of New York, Messrs. Brothers of this city and the Hong Kong & Shanghai Bank of London, for the reconstruction of the Manila Railway company and an extension of its lines, was completed today. The capital of $2,000,000 was over-subscribed.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Sir Edward I. Reed, formerly chief constructor of the British navy, is dead. He was born in 1830.

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE
IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE COUNTY OF FRESNO, STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

In the matter of the estate of Hinkley Benjamin, deceased.
Benjamin, deceased, and W. T. Mattingly, executor of the last will and testament of Hinkley Benjamin, deceased, having filed their petition herein praying for an order of this court for the sale of all of the real estate of said deceased, remaining in their hands and all of the personal property of said estate remaining in their hands, for the purposes therein set forth, it is further ordered by this court that all persons interested in the estate of said deceased appear before the said Superior court on Monday, the 31st day of December, 1906, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause why they should not be decreed to sell all of said real and personal property to said estate and all of the personal property of said estate to be sold and all of the proceeds of said sale to be paid to said estate.

Dated this 20th day of November, 1906.
GEO. E. CURTIS,
Judge of the Superior Court.

SEALED PROPOSALS WANTED.
Supplies for County Hospital, Alameda, Cal., and outside indigents.

In accordance with an order of the Board of Supervisors of Fresno County, duly made and entered, notice is hereby given that said Board will receive up to two o'clock P. M. of Thursday, December 6th, 1906, sealed proposals for furnishing said County with Meats, Dry Goods and Groceries for the County Hospital, Alameda, Cal., and all outside indigents, also for furnishing said County with Dry Goods and Groceries for the County Jail for the ensuing year, beginning December 12th, 1906.

A schedule of the supplies to be furnished may be had from the Clerk of the Board at his office in the Court House.

Each proposal must state separately the price of each article to be furnished and must be accompanied by a cash deposit on a certified check in the sum of $5000 made payable to the Chairman of the Board, or a guarantee that the successful bidder will within five days after the acceptance of his bid enter into a contract with said County and furnish a bond in the sum of $5000, conditioned upon the faithful performance of said contract.

Each proposal must be sealed and addressed to the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors and marked "Proposals for furnishing the County with Supplies." The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

W. O. MILES,
Clerk of the Board,
By A. D. Ewing, Deputy.

UNIFORM RENTALS OF POSTOFFICE BOXES

Some Rates Will Be Raised and Some Will Be Considerably Lowered.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. An order has been issued by the first assistant postmaster general looking toward the adoption of uniform rates of rent for boxes of postoffices. The postmaster will affect every postoffice in the United States. It is not the intention to make an increase in box rents. While some rents will be raised, others will be considerably lowered, the aim being to correct inequalities.

MAIL BOX THIEVES

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30. Mail box robbers have appeared in Los Angeles. Last night before 11 o'clock, six boxes in the residence section were broken open and robbed of their contents. Letters were torn open and scattered in all directions about the boxes. Mailed checks were found among the remnants, but the amount of money taken by the thief is not known.

THE PRESIDENT IN Panama

FIRST AMERICAN CHIEF EXECUTIVE TO VISIT FOREIGN COUNTRY DURING TERM OF OFFICE

FOR the first time since the foundation of the great American republic its chief executive has passed beyond its boundary and is sojourning in a foreign country. If the present administration had nothing else in the shape of initiative to its credit this novel and radical action on the part of its head would distinguish it from all its predecessors.

For it has not always been the custom of our presidents "to wander far afield." Until the time of Andrew Johnson it had been the policy of the tenants of the White House to keep within sight of the great dome of the national capitol during the four short years of their elevation. That they fulfilled the popular expectation by so doing is evident from the storm of dissent which made itself felt in all quarters when Mr. Johnson undertook his historic "swing around the circle."

All that is ancient history, and the present generation is quite reconciled to have it so. It matters little to the up to date American citizen whether the presidential veto is formulated at Washington or from the most undiscovered spot in the land. An official act done in the "big game country" is as binding as if it were signed in the new business offices at the executive mansion.

In Europe it is quite the fashion for executives to pay visits to other countries. It is only the pope who remains at home. The majority of the reigning houses are so connected by ties of blood that there is abundant excuse for royal junketing abroad. The family reunions of the house of Denmark attracted royal guests from several courts, and there is scarcely a crowned head on the continent that has not paid a visit to "Albion's peripatetic shores." These visits of ceremony are made for various reasons, some of state and others of private concern, but when royalty goes to Paris no reason is demanded. The City of Light is reason enough in itself. Even the shah and the rajah and the nawab visit it for its own sweet sake.

Seriously, there is no valid reason why the president should not have gone to Panama, and there is a very excellent reason why he should have done precisely as he has. There are matters of vital interest to the American people now under way in that connecting neck of land, and the administration is committed to the task of seeing to it that the project of the great interoceanic canal shall not be shipwrecked for the need of a competent pilot.

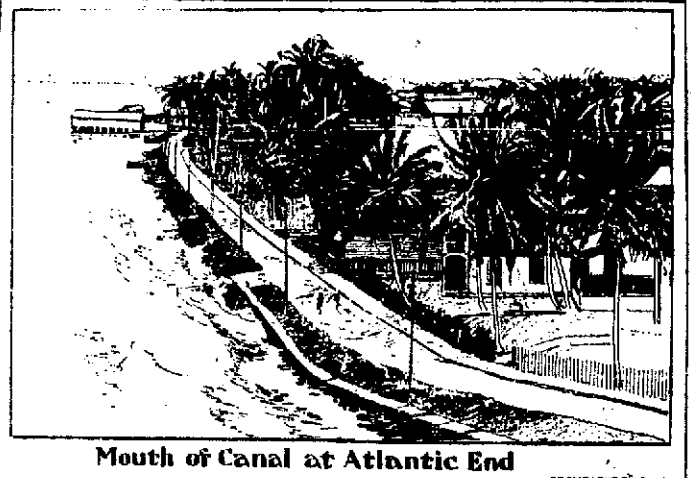

The necessity of American supervision in the construction of the great waterway is no longer a matter of party difference. There is a pretty general agreement as to the impracticability of permitting it to be done under foreign auspices. The die has been cast and the good money and the best hopes of the American people have been put into the enterprise. Clearly it is the duty of the president to see that the treasure devoted to the scheme is neither wasted nor diverted into other channels. It is for that reason that Mr. Roosevelt has brushed aside the bugaboo of precedent and has engaged in a personal inspection of the great work in which fate and the spirit of the age have compelled him to feel so keen an interest. Moreover, it is not absolutely correct to say that the president is in a foreign country. When he is within the canal zone, five miles on either side of the isthmus waterway, he is as certainly on American soil as if he stood within the limits of his Long Island homestead. The so-called "canal zone" is the property of the United States in perpetuity, and it is as legitimately a part of the republic as any one of the remote Pacific islands that have come into Uncle Sam's possession.

Of course the president and Mrs. Roosevelt have not permitted precedent to hamper them in their determination to extract as much comfort out of Panama as possible. No one who has visited the isthmus has returned enthusiastic. In its most presentable active it is not a region in which one lingers fondly. Its record as a beauty spot is not seductive, and its reputation for discomfort and even danger is sinister. Before the American occupation of the canal zone it was probably the most insanitary locality on the continent. Its condition has been improved greatly, but there still remains much to be done.

It goes without saying that the canal zone has been on its best behavior during the presidential visit. There had been plenty of time since Mr. Roosevelt announced his intention of going to Panama to put everything in good shape, and Chief Engineer Stevens is not the man to be caught napping. It is evident also that Dr. Manuel Amador, the president of the little republic, has left no stone unturned in his efforts to make isthmian hospitality a thing to be remembered.

This same Dr. Amador is one of the most remarkable old men who are now playing the game of politics. He was upward of seventy when he made up his mind to put a stop to the ruinous policy of perpetual revolution to which the isthmus was committed. Had he been inclined to be unscrupulous, Amador would have been a dangerous leader for the Panamas. It was at a moment when the American interest in the canal had reached a climax, and it demanded the most diplomatic and patriotic effort. Happily for his people, Amador was equal to the emergency.

The president of Panama was a practicing physician up to the time of his inauguration, and it is reported that he is still called to be unscrupulous. Amador was a dangerous leader for the Panamas. It was at a moment when the American interest in the canal had reached a climax, and it demanded the most diplomatic and patriotic effort. Happily for his people, Amador was equal to the emergency.

His high position and position the Amadors belonged to the Conservatives—the rich old families of the isthmus which were dominated by the clerical influence and were slow in adopting measures that savored of modern advancement. Dr. Amador was of a different sort. He was a firm adherent to liberal doctrine of the rational kind, and he allied himself with the revolutionists when the opportunity seemed promising. Strange to tell, he lost neither social prestige nor professional pre-eminence by his action. Only once was he forced by the instinct of self preservation to flee.

On this occasion the aged revolutionist eluded the vigilance of the enemy by permitting himself to be packed in a large barrel and conveyed across the isthmus as freight. It was decidedly unromantic, but the doctor accepted it as the only avenue of escape that looked feasible. His political enemies had determined to make an example of him for the benefit of less important Liberals. At the present time all Panamanians reverence his name. To average Panamanian President Amador is a combination of all that is admirable—a patriarch of unspotted reputation, an educated thinker, safe and conservative in his views, connected by birth or marriage with all the leading families of the isthmus and the one who risked, as a man of wealth and position, more than any other citizen of the republic in bringing it to its present flourishing condition.

This is the fortunate Panamanian to whom in his old age has fallen the duty of entertaining the first president of the United States who has ever been a guest in a foreign country. If all the complimentary things said of the patriarch are true, he deserves the honor and all that it implies.

The Threatened - Japanese Invasion of America;

Little Brown Islander Is Not Like Other Orientals

DURING the marvellously heroic struggle of the Japanese against Muscovite aggression in the far east the plucky little Asiatic received the moral support of American sympathy in its most unreserved expression. That it was appreciated to its fullest value by the millions and his subjects there is not the slightest reason to doubt. Until the close of the peace proceedings at Portsmouth there had been no loss of American prestige in Japan. Throughout the kingdom we were regarded as "the favored nation."

Immediately on the return of the peace commissioners to Tokyo it came to us almost as a shock that the terms of the treaty were unpopular among the masses of the Japanese population and that American intermediating was credited with the unsatisfactory result. It soon became apparent, however, that this view of the matter was not taken by the Japanese official world, but was held only by the rank and file. The friendly relations between the two countries were not disturbed by the incident.

But trouble of a different nature was brewing. There was a revival of the "yellow peril" discussion and loud protest against further additions to our population from oriental sources. In our discrimination we included the Japanese, who do not deny that they are orientals, but wish it understood distinctly that they are orientals of a very superior brand, a fact which nobody will question. The most unmistakable example of this race discrimination was the action of the board of education of the county and city of San Francisco in providing a separate school for Japanese children.

The position taken by the board was easily defensible. It was also in strict conformity with the state law. It was claimed also that a majority of the Japanese pupils consisted of men between twenty and thirty years of age. Native Americans of the same age would not be permitted to attend the public schools for young boys and girls, and the board saw no other way out of the difficulty than to provide a separate school for the Japanese, of whom there are upward of 500. This solution was unsatisfactory to the mi-lado's government, and the Japanese ambassador, the accomplished Viscount Aoki, lodged a protest with the department of state. President Roosevelt, who was exceedingly anxious that the treaty rights of the Japanese, sent Victor H. Metcalf, secretary of commerce and labor, to investigate the situation. Mr. Metcalf, who hails from California, in which state he has been a resident for many years, was an especially competent person to be entrusted with the job. "The Japanese invasion of America" sounds rather formidable, but there is good reason to believe that it is assuming shape under the auspices of a powerful syndicate in the island empire. It is known that as far back as 1900 Japan sent agents to America to select and to secure choice tracts of land in the great southwest on which colonists might establish agricultural communities. Last year a large syndicate of wealthy and prominent Japanese was formed to plant colonies in America. Kinzaburo Gada, a young man who was educated in European schools, came to America as the representative of this company and purchased a tract of 10,000 acres in Bee county, Texas, near San Antonio. The climate and resources of Texas seemed especially attractive to Mr. Gada and his company, and in the first experimental colony of 300 it succeeded at least 100,000 acres more will be provided and a larger attempt at colonization will follow. Already six or eight small Japanese colonies in Texas are doing well, so well, indeed, that the inhabitants of the overcrowded little kingdom now look upon colonization in America as the most promising relief from their congestion. The total area of the uncultivated section in which the little brown folk have settled is larger than Japan. That recently it had been used for grazing purposes only, but it is now known to be a region particularly adapted to agriculture. The soil is so rich, in fact, that it will not be necessary to use fertilizers for several years. The purpose of the land syndicate is to expend $400,000 in improvements as an initial measure. It is estimated that at the end of four years a profit of $1,000,000 will be realized.

The objections urged against Japanese immigration in an unrestricted form seem to be entirely different from those that have been made against the Chinese influx. John Chinnaman has been unwelcome because of his tendency to displace manual laborers of the Caucasian race. The Japs have made himself persons non grata on account of his aspiring nature. He is not more inclined to work in the ditches or nurseries of the Pacific coast than is the native born American. He is continually trying to better his position. There seems to be nothing that he cannot learn to do very well, and he is not at all content to be numbered with the lower class of laborers. He becomes a plumber, a cabinetmaker, a merchant or a restaurant keeper. When he accepts a position he has a fashion of stipulating for the right to study or to attend evening schools. This is one of the great objections urged by the Californians against their Japanese servants—they want to leave their work to attend school.

It must be remembered also that the Japanese are exclusive and that they are exceedingly particular as to the companions they select. Before a Jap admits one to friendship or even acquaintance he subjects the aspirant to the most careful and delicate scrutiny. This racial peculiarity seems to extend to all classes. Least of all, would one look for its manifestation in a restaurateur, but it is a fact that if an American who had not the appearance of a gentleman should enter a Japanese restaurant in one of our large cities—in New York, for example, where there are several—and demand to be served he would meet with a polite, but decided refusal.

There is also a wide difference between the Japanese gentleman and the Japanese commoner. Such a sharp line is drawn between the two classes that they rarely come in contact. In point of fact, however, there is not so impassable a chasm between the upper and the lower class Japanese as divides the mandarin from the coolie. This is because there is no Jap in America at least, who is not infinitely superior to the Chinese coolie.

The Japanese colony in New York numbers less than 2,000, and its members are nearly all men. There are perhaps a dozen women and about as many children. The Japanese, like his smart excel brother from the Asiatic mainland, does not come to America with a household. Many of the Japanese in the Atlantic coast cities are students who have been led by their admiration for western civilization to come to this country to be remodeled after American ways. There is not the slightest doubt that the Japanese as a nation have patterned more closely after us than after European models.

A homely illustration of this tendency to adopt American ways of doing is afforded by the fact that Japan was the first foreign nation to accept our national game of baseball. A student organized by the students of Waseda university visited us and showed themselves to be true enthusiasts. The game has become very popular in the kingdom, although it has never survived any other transplantation. Quite as indicative of the esteem in which we are held by our oriental disciples is the confidence with which so many young Japanese of both sexes have been placed by the government in our institutions of learning.

ELLERY DAVIS.

WHERE RAIN NEVER FALLS. Peru has hundreds of square miles along its coast of rainless country. In this tract rain is never known to fall from one century's end to another. Yet the region is not entirely barren of vegetation. Some parts of it, indeed, are comparatively fertile. This is due to the extraordinary fog known as "araura." They prevail every night from May to October after a summer that is sultry and extend up to a level of 1,200 feet above the sea.

ALL OVER THE WORLD.

There are about 4,000 burglaries yearly in England and Wales. The church at Borgund, Norway, is said to be the oldest wooden building in the world. It was built in the eleventh century. Switzerland has no coal and hardly any fuel. Fishermen are less prone to commit suicide than men of any other occupation. Soldiers are the most frequent suicides. W. Beckwith in 1877 swam ninety miles in sixty hours. Clouds have been observed to rise to a height of 43,500 feet. The flying lemur of the Indian archipelago, which is only about thirty inches long, can leap fully 300 feet by the use of the membrane connecting its limbs with each other. Manchester is the largest free library in the United Kingdom. In Manchuria and Mongolia are many dog farms, where dogs are bred simply for their fur. So long ago as 1584 Thomas Stevens made a tour round the world on a bicycle. The machine was of the high, old fashioned type, with fifty-two inch wheels. The works of Sir Walter Scott all no fewer than 250 pages of the British museum catalogue. Lord Rothschild paid $25,000 for the collection of butterflies made by the late Baron Felder. The first banknote forger was Richard Vaughan. He foolishly spelled England "Englad" on the note and was caught and hanged in 1758 at Tyburn. Lake Arunda, in Persia, is nearly three times siltier than the Dead sea. The lake is 81 miles long and lies 4,000 feet above sea level. The Turkish bath was introduced into England about fifty years ago by the eastern traveler David Crompton. The railways of Great Britain, exclusive of underground lines like the Metropolitan, have about 130 miles of tunnels in the aggregate. The buildings of the Seraglio at Constantinople can accommodate 20,000 people with ease. There are about 8,000,000 sewing machines in use in the world. The annual output is 2,500,000. Lake Ladoga, near St. Petersburg, has fifty rivers flowing into it. Aluminum, though present almost everywhere, is chiefly made from cryolite, a mineral brought from Greenland. "Dunnage" means mats and planking for stowage of cargo. In a cold winter fully 400,000 pairs of skates are sold in the United Kingdom. Lord Wolsey has been present at more battles than any other living British general.

FIGHT OVER KEARNEY ESTATE TO BEGIN SOON

Heirs of Patrick Kearney, Nephew of the Late Raisin Association President, Will Contest the Will, as Well as Dennis Kearney, the Sandlotter—Regents of University Ask for Partial Distribution, Which Will Be Heard December 10th.

The board of Regents of the state university have evidently decided to precipitate at once the fight over the property of the late M. Theodor Kearney. Two prominent legal firms are known to be preparing contests of the will made by Mr. Kearney, and the petition for partial distribution of the property filed in the Superior court yesterday in the Superior court of this county, will certainly set matters going.

The petition was sent by mail from Oakland, where it had been prepared by the firm of Stock & Church, Charles N. Stock, the attorney for the university, and is one of the leading lawyers of the state. The petition recites the fact that an appraisement of the property was recently made and that as the claims against the estate will not amount to more than $13,750, it is quite proper to make a partial distribution. What part of the estate should be transferred to the university at once is not specified.

The appraisement that was made recently showed a valuation of but little less than a million and a half dollars. While in the opinion of many, this figure is exaggerated, there is no question that as far as the claims against the estate are concerned, a considerable share of it might be given over to the university as sole devise at once.

It is known that at least two contests will be filed, and it is more than likely that claimants who have not as yet come forward will appear in the spring, when a few weeks after the death of Mr. Kearney, Dennis Kearney of San Francisco, equally famous with the dead man, though in a very different way, appeared in Fresno and gathered up considerable information regarding the property and the disposition that was to be made of it, saying at the same time that they were cousins. As this was the first that had ever been heard in this county of relatives of Kearney, the incident made considerable stir, especially considering the possibility of an attempt to break the will.

At the time Dennis Kearney declared that he had no thought of seeking to obtain any of the property, saying that he had enough of his own. At the same time, he intimated that there were other heirs who might put in claims. He returned to San Francisco and a short time afterward gave out the fact that he would institute a contest, saying that he would do it on behalf of his children. He refused to give any information as to other and nearer heirs.

About a month ago a firm of lawyers in Los Angeles, Ballard & Ballard, wrote to County Clerk Miles asking for transcripts of all the papers on record here with regard to the M. Theodor Kearney estate. They stated that they were acting on behalf of the children of Patrick Kearney, deceased, but did not say how many of them there are. Patrick Kearney, they said, was a nephew of the Fresno Kearney.

The secrecy that was maintained by the late raisin association president with regard to his past life and his relatives, has caused the facts regarding possible heirs to come out very slowly. The delay in the appearance on the scene of the heirs of Patrick Kearney shows the possibility that others may come into court later.

It is understood that the most likely point of attack on the will that gave all the property to the University of California is the fact that the state has forbidden the bequest of more than one-third of an estate to extraordinary institutions, when there are heirs existing.

The hearing of the petition of the Board of Regents has been set for hearing in Judge McGinnis' department of the Superior court on December 10th, a week from next Monday.

MORE SWINDLING IN LAND FRAUD DEALS

Nebraska Hearings Develop Proof of Dishonest Handling of Soldiers' Claims.

OMAHA, Nov. 30.—An effort was made today by the defense in the Richard Constock land fraud trial in the United States district court to discredit one of the government witnesses, Irving D. Hull, who announced himself as a professional land locator.

It was claimed by the defense that Hull's testimony was given in consideration of his immunity from prosecution on charges in connection with the land fraud cases. Hull admitted having been arrested and bound over to the grand jury by a United States commissioner, but said no indictment was found against him and that he was not prosecuted.

Hull's testimony developed an agreement between himself and Thomas M. Huntington to secure soldiers' claims. The soldiers were to be given $300 for their land after they proved it up. The purpose to find proof, they were to lease the land to Constock, and Huntington was to get $200 for each lease, and out of this $200 the expenses and improvements were to be paid.

When final proof was completed, the consideration for each section was to be $8000. Three hundred dollars of this was to go to the soldier and the other $7700, which included the lease money, was divided between Huntington and James Hull, a brother of the witness.

AWARD OF DECORATIONS FOR RIFLE PRACTICE

Standing of the Sharpshooters of Companies C and F for the Years 1904-5.

GOLDFIELD PROMOTER WANTED FOR FRAUD

Dr. Lyman, Supposed to Be in Pasadena, Said to Have Bounced Client.

GOLDFIELD, Nov. 30.—Dr. J. G. Lyman, a promoter, lately operating under the name of the Union Securities company of Goldfield, Chicago, New York and elsewhere, is being sought by the sheriff's office of Esmeralda county, Nevada, because of charges of fraud brought against him by R. E. Sheffield of Chicago. Dr. Lyman's office is in possession of the authorities and his secretary, E. H. Lattimore, is under arrest.

Sheffield, in his complaint, alleges that he was induced to buy a large amount of stock in the Boston and Fresno Water Mining company through misrepresentation, the amount of money made in the affidavits being $9,250. Lyman is supposed to be in Pasadena, Cal., and a warrant has been sent there for service. Lattimore, who was arrested here today and placed under $1,500 bond, says that he is an innocent party, as he was employed in the office simply in a clerical capacity and although secretary of the company, acted as such only in a perfunctory capacity.

COSHOCTON, O., Nov. 30.—Mrs. Mary L. Langfelter, charged with wrecking the Newark bank, was sentenced today to the penitentiary for three years for forgery.

YOUNG MEN IN DEMAND

Dr. Jordan Talks of Needs of the Century.

Social Education Congress in Session at Boston—Facing Conditions.

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—The Social Educational Congress, which aims to draw wider attention to the need of training youth to meet the new demands arising from the complexities of modern life, opened here today. Many eminent specialists are here to discuss the new needs.

One of the features of the congress was the mass meeting this afternoon at Tremont temple on the subject of "Education for Citizenship." Governor Guild, Mayor Fitzgerald, President Child of Harvard university, George H. Martin, state secretary of education, and President David Starr Jordan of Leland Stanford university, on "The Young Man of the Twentieth Century" were the speakers.

President Jordan described the twentieth century as "strenuous, complex and democratic." He said there never had been such an age for young men who could do anything, and that there was room for "every young man who could rise to the opportunities of the time."

One-third of the young men are not educated, he said, because of their habits, but trained, loyal, cheerful, sober-minded young men are in demand.

DR. JUDSON MAY SUCCEED DR. HARPER

Acting President of Chicago University Said to Have Rockefeller's Support.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The Herald today says: Dr. Harry P. Judson, acting president of the University of Chicago, who has been in this city attending a meeting of the general education board, has been chosen by the trustees of the university in succession to the late Dr. William B. Harper. It is said to be altogether likely that he will be elected when the trustees meet in January.

Dr. Judson, who has returned to Chicago, had a conference with Rockefeller's financial secretary in this city. It is understood that should Dr. Judson be chosen, Rockefeller will once more make a magnificent gift of money to the university to which he has already been so liberal.

NEGRO KILLED WIFE

TUCSON, Ariz., Nov. 30.—H. J. Greer, a negro, shot and instantly killed a negro woman said to be his wife, at the Southern Pacific depot here this morning. When taken into custody, Greer claimed that the woman had deserted him for another man. The couple came from Dallas, Texas.

SIX MILLION DOLLARS FOR TIMBER PROPERTY

Largest Single Transaction Ever Put Through on the Pacific Coast Is Completed.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 30.—It is announced that over 100,000 acres of timber land on which is approximately 2,500,000,000 feet of standing timber, valued at $6,000,000, has been purchased by the Monarch Timber company, in the St. Joe and St. Mary's river valley in Idaho. Half of this gigantic purchase was made in a single deal between A. W. Johnston of Spokane, representing the Monarch Timber company, and E. A. Blackwell of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, representing his own interests, and the William Howard Land & Timber company. This is said to be the largest single deal ever negotiated on the Pacific coast.

MONGOLIA'S OFFICERS SUMMONED AGAIN

Supervising Inspector Benningham Is Not Satisfied With the Decisions of Inferiors.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—United States Supervising Inspector Captain John Benningham, after reviewing the evidence in the matter of the grounding of the Pacific Mail liner Mongolia on Midway island, Sept. 15th, has ordered the ship's officers to appear before him next Tuesday to give further testimony.

In the investigation by the local inspectors of hulls and boilers, Inspector Bulger recommended Captain Porter, commander of the Mongolia, while Inspector Bolls decided the captain was as much at fault as Andrew Martin, first mate, and recommended the suspension of Porter's license for six months. Both inspectors recommended the suspension of the first mate's license for six months. Captain Benningham's action is unprecedented. Heretofore it has been the practice of the supervising inspector to approve or reject the local inspector's decision.

NEW JERSEY MAN LIVED LONG ENOUGH TO JOIN THE CHURCH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Adam Swoppe, 90 years old, who joined Trinity Methodist church in Trenton, N. J., on his confession of faith a week ago, and who said then that it was the first time he had ever been connected with a church, died here Wednesday night.

ROUGHHOUSE OGLE HOUSE

Oakland Football Players Played Ned.

And T. E. Collins Shares Flora Wiggins' Aversion to College Students.

Because the members of the Oakland football team "rough housed" the Ogle House over of Thanksgiving, Prof. F. Lock, Latin teacher in Oakland High school and "chapman" of the visiting students, was asked to leave the hotel and seek shelter elsewhere. For the same reason, Walter Boyd, captain and manager of the local team, was presented with a bill for $25 which is claimed by T. E. Collins, proprietor of the Ogle House, as the amount of damage done. The bill has not yet been paid and Collins has a very strong aversion to all high school football enthusiasts.

It seems that as soon as the Oakland boys arrived they intended to go out for a bark. Regardless of training rules for football, the boys started out to see the town on the night before the game and by the time they returned to their hotel for the night, they had seen and tasted enough of the stuff that bears the name of Fresno, to make them gloriously happy and full of life. Just what happened at the hotel is not known, but on the morning after the place looked like it had been the scene of a football game, played under the old rules, without revision. While the players bucked through the line of beds and bureaus, the waiters rooted up the carpet. The professor was there with the boys and joined in the game.

Upon seeing the state of affairs in the rooms and halls occupied by the Oakland boys, Mr. Collins approached them, threatened to sue and wanted to do anything about it and the two had a "rough" spot, after which Mr. Boyd, accompanied by three other Oakland boys, went to the Grand Central. The Fresno team manager says he had nothing to do with the affair, and does not think he should be held responsible for the trouble that was caused. Mr. Collins says that it is a disgrace to any community for boys to act as the Oakland students did. He claims that one objectionable guest broke the furniture and threw water all over the walls and carpet in the hall, causing damage as much to the reputation of the house as to its contents. He has asked at the same conference as Flora Wiggins in the College House "don't never have anything to do with students."

The Oakland boys say that they are accustomed to being placed in a higher priced hotel and just wanted to have a good time because they didn't think anyone would care. They also deny that they caused as much trouble as is blamed on them.

METCALF IS AFTER CAPTAIN OF SOLANO

Pullman Car Doors Were Not Kept Open When Crossing Carquinez Straits.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—At the instance of Victor H. Metcalf, secretary of commerce and labor, Supervising Inspector General George Uler of Washington has instructed Capt. John Berningham, supervising inspector at this port, to bring Capt. William Wright of the Southern Pacific train ferryboat Solano to an immediate trial for violating the law which requires that the vestibule doors of all Pullman cars must be kept open while crossing the water.

The Solano plies between Port Costa and Benicia. Secretary Metcalf observed the violation of the law while in a Pullman car crossing the Carquinez straits on the Solano recently.

Women's Tailored Suits Worth $17.50, $20.00, $22.50, $25.00 Today For $13.50

They are the best values we have yet offered this season. They are stunning costumes, cleverly designed and tailored and sold much under their real worth. They are being used as December trade stimulants. There would be no trouble to get full price for each and every suit in this lot, but we want a big crowd of women here today. There are many other things to show them that are not being advertised, and these suits are being used as the magnet.

They represent the best efforts of many good tailors as they are sample suits, used for the purpose of showing the store keepers what good garments the makers made. They are in chevrons, broadcloths, serges, fancy worsteds and tweeds; in plain colors or plaids, in stripes or mixtures. Every suit new and stylish. There are Etons, Blouse Etons, Prince Chaps, Chesterfields, Military, Pony Jacket or half fitting jacket suits among them. All with the newest plaited skirts. Owing to the unusually low price, we must make a small charge for any needed alterations.
